

Our Privacy Principles

When we collect and use your personal information, we ensure we look after it properly and use it in accordance with our privacy principles set out below, keep it safe and will never sell it.

1. Personal information you provide is processed fairly, lawfully and in a transparent manner
2. Personal information you provide is collected for a specific purpose and is not processed in a way which is incompatible with the purpose which the Air League collected it
3. Your personal information is adequate, relevant and limited to what is necessary in relation to the purposes for which it is processed
4. Your personal information is kept accurate and, where necessary kept up to date
5. Your personal information is kept no longer than is necessary for the purposes for which the personal information is processed
6. We will take appropriate steps to keep your personal information secure
7. Your personal information is processed in accordance with your rights
8. We will only transfer your personal information to another country or an international organisation outside the European Economic Area where we have taken the required steps to ensure that your personal information is protected. Such steps may include placing the party we are transferring information to under contractual obligations to protect it to adequate standards
9. The Air League does not sell your personal information and we also do not permit the selling of customer data by any companies who provide a service to us

- Our cookie policy

This website is owned by The Air League. Here is our cookie policy for this site and the types of cookies we use on it.

What are cookies?

Cookies are small files that websites place on the device you're using to browse the site. Cookies are commonly used to record some aspect of your visit to a site, such as choices you've made or preferences you've set during your visit.

How and why we use cookies

We use cookies to give you the best experience when you visit our website. By using cookies, we can make it easier for you to do many things, such as managing your accounts, policies, or login details, and applying for products and services. Cookies can also allow us to tailor the content of our website.

Keeping your personal information safe

Our cookies do not store personal information such as your name, address, phone number or email in a format that can be read by others. The cookies we use cannot read or search your computer, smartphone or web-enabled device to obtain information about you or your family, or read any material kept on your hard drive.

DO WE HAVE ANY COOKIES THAT STORE ENCRYPTED INFORMATION. We do use a small number of cookies that store encrypted versions of information where you have asked us to, such as the 'Remember me' function that allows us to remember your Account username for subsequent visits. However, this is encrypted. The website that places a cookie owns that cookie. This means only that website and other sites that it has agreed to share information with can read the information stored using a cookie.

Links to sites provided by others

If you follow a link from our website to another website, please be aware that the owner of the other website will have their own privacy and cookie policies for their site. We recommend you read their policies as we are not responsible or liable for what happens at their site.

How to manage and switch off cookies

Your web browser provides settings that allow you to manage or switch off cookies. If you do switch off cookies, remember that you may not be able to use all of the services on our websites.

You can find out more about managing and switching off cookies at the independent website: allaboutcookies.org.

The types of cookies we use on this site

Strictly necessary cookies

These cookies are essential for our online services and tools to work. They collect or record information that we need to make our site work.
